RESIDUAL DEBT SERVICES LIMITED ("RDS") - STUB INSTRUMENTS FACE VALUES

Introduction

The exchange offer, as detailed in the Offering Information Memorandum ("OIM") issued on 4 February 2016, was successfully implemented on 4 April 2016. The OIM, inter alia, detailed the creation of a new bank (African Bank Limited) and the transfer of the core assets and business to the new African Bank Limited, which received an injection of R10 billion from its new parent, African Bank Holdings Limited (the "Transaction").

The material liabilities of Residual Debt Services Limited ("RDS") were exchanged, as part of the Transaction, for new instruments held in African Bank Limited, together with certain residual claims on the assets of RDS – "senior stub instruments" and "sub-ordinated stub instruments" and a partial cash settlement.

Stub instruments' carrying values

In terms of the exchange offer executed on 4 April 2016, three distinct tranches of stub instruments were issued with specific terms and conditions and applicable term sheets.

The three categories of stub instruments were:

1. Transferable senior stub instruments (ZAU000014557) with an original nominal value of R3 972 899 102 and an interest commencement date of 10 August 2014;
2. Non-transferable senior stub instruments (ZAU000014540) with an original nominal value of R1 326 100 and an interest commencement date of 10 August 2014; and
3. Transferable subordinated stub instruments (ZAU000014532) with a nominal value of R3 620 892 415 and an interest commencement date of 4 April 2016.

The Curator Craig Du Plessis announced that an extraordinary payment distribution totalling R2.7 billion was to be made on 06 December 2022. This payment distribution completely redeemed the transferable and non-transferable senior stub instruments' interest owing and capital outstanding amounting to R2,486,267,459.66 as at 6 December 2022. In addition, the subordinate stub holders also received their first part payment distribution amounting to R213,732,540.34 (which was applied to the interest outstanding) as the senior stub instrument holders had been fully repaid.

The extraordinary payment distribution mentioned above was as a result of RDS and African Bank Limited entering into an agreement on or about 21 November 2022, whereby the indemnity reserve was reduced from R3 billion to R500 million. In addition, the Curator reduced the operational float from R500 million to R300 million which resulted in the Company having R2.7 billion excess cash available for distribution to stub instrument holders in accordance with the distribution waterfall.

In order to assist holders of the various types of stub instruments to calculate their contractual carrying values for their respective holdings, the detailed calculations below have been provided for this purpose.

Please note that the values disclosed are the contractual carrying values and do not necessarily represent the fair values or market values of these instruments.

The subordinated stub holder instruments issued as part of the exchange offer effected on 4 April 2016 represent their proportionate share of the total transferable instrument value of R3 620 892 415, being the nominal values as at 4 April 2016. As an example, if you have a holding of R1 000 000 subordinated stub instruments (ZAU000014532), your holding has a contractual face value of R2 016 780 (R1 000 000/R3 620 892 415 multiplied by R7 302 543 407 (31 December 2022 total face value after taking into account the first part stub payment which took place on 6 December 2022)).

Only the subordinated stub instrument's face value will be updated on a monthly basis and posted on the RDS webpage going forward.
