African Bank supports Ekurhuleni School for the Deaf

Irrespective of race, creed, and gender, education makes it possible for people to stand out as equal with all the other people from different walks of life.

On Tuesday 11 February, the team from African Bank joined hands to support children at the Ekurhuleni School for the deaf, handing over new beds and bedding for the Girls Hostel and officially opened the newly refurbished Computer Lab. The school begins at grade RR and goes up to grade 9 and only strictly takes in deaf children or those with profound hearing loss. The mode of communication is Sign language.

Kennedy Dembetembe, National CSI Manager for African Bank, says, “In our efforts to make a difference we are proud to hand over a cheque for R1.1 million to Kwaphenduka Projects who run our Gauteng Online Computer Programme in public schools. They were also responsible for assisting us with the Lab being refurbished at the school.

African Bank’s Chief Risk Officer Piet Swanepoel was also joined in at the official handover.
